GALSAD: Charity Collection is a tongue-in-cheek strategy game inspired by retro space sims and the ultra-popular dwarf planet Ceres from Ted Chiang's story "Story of Your Life". The game focuses on mining raw materials such as Hematite and Permafoska. Players will spend their GALSAD credits over the course of many scoreable missions to gather the asteroid material. Hematite is used to construct Mecha Debris Decommissioners, and Permafoska is used to construct "Permafoska High Performance Decommissioners". These specialized deco-bots will replace any debris that is found, for a hefty reward in GALSAD. "Story of Your Life" by Ted Chiang Ceres Note: "Story of Your Life" by Ted Chiang is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License. "Story of Your Life" is a great story where humanity's future on a dying planet is determined by an individual's subconscious. Ceres will be the only planet humanity will be able to live on for the foreseeable future. The story takes place in the late 21st century, where a GALSAD corporation has mined all of the necessary materials to construct the last and only spacecraft that will be able to travel to Ceres. This is a retelling of the last days of an aging spacefaring civilization. For the best experience possible and to avoid crashing to hard drive, run this game in fullscreen mode and disable your desktop effects. ----- NOTE: 1. The original game was built in Unity engine 5. 2. You will not be able to reach the leaderboard if you do not update to Unity 5 after we release the game. ----- THE GAME FEATURES: Multiple games and levels built into a standalone game Multi-player 8 base ships and 3 rare drones 3 difficulty settings 4 types of skills All characters can be deleted at any time Feel free to explore the world to your heart's content Dazzle a few enemies and earn the envy of your peers. Some achievements are available to unlock Challenge yourself in the "time trial" mode. Install instructions Windows version: 1. Close Steam completely before installing and update the game to the most recent version available. 2. Run the file "install.zip"

Features Key:

- Galactic salvage is based upon Ship Power and Electronic Skill Modifier tiles, provides for a serious science & architecture game and what would likely be a very time consuming and tiresome game.
- Unscoped contains 5 modules, and exponentially escalating module costs.
- Science modules are divided into 3 levels, Experimental (blue), Prototype (green) and Radiated (yellow), each of which may be placed in several technologies. Radiated modules are the increasingly expensive elements of the GALSA ring defense matrix, which confers Skilled and Special Weapons bonuses as well as defensive shields.
- To support both massive annihilation and inquisitive mechoreros, weapons are rated from 1 to 4, depending on power and range.
- Three armed ships. Highly capable ships can have 2 weapons, safe ships have 1 weapon, and salvager ships have none. Guns for salvaging feature 3 power ratings
- A non-nuclear megaship, the Durandal, will be available for play within the expandable block, called GalSec Space. It is equipped with the full array of surveillance platforms and weaponry to protect this massive assemblage of Galactic salvaging schemes. Also available for play is a Morpheus Drone ship, for home defense and possible direct use at floating scanners.
- Zets to place modules (allowing representation of several galaxies at once) and Zet allocation (deflating the Zet storage, removing the added options, and allowing Zets to be moved between galaxies)
- Marks the doom and destruction of civilizations
- Converts computer generated quests, discoveries, technologies, and galactic peace treaties to a paper and pencil board game

Click here: WeAreHere (WASH) is a long-term multimedia project. Our aim is to improve the general understanding, knowledge and awareness of people around the world about the platform for international understanding and community-building we call: "We Are Here." Through this, we build the capacity to communicate, to engage in critical reflection and issue awareness, and to promote understanding about human rights, international cooperation, international peace and international justice. The utilization of multiple platforms is vital to reach worldwide, language and culture diverse audience. Print media, Radio and Television are generally not used due to the project's aim. Video, Audio, Social Media and New Media are used to tell the story about the project and collate the necessary information. We aim to bring the audience understanding and critical thought about current and topical issues. Through it all, we aim to educate, inform, and entertain. Our mission is to tell stories of community building, of people coming together from different nations, cultures, and languages to create a new world. Many people understandably ask: "Why? Of course, there are lots of other issues I can get involved with with my money and time. Why pay when I can give the money to people who are directly affected...?" Great question! We provide these services because we want to build capacity and communication about the amazing

What's new:

. The raw material found off Earth is not usually of any commercial value. Its classification may be very different from that of terrestrial goods. Often valuable metals, e.g. gold, platinum, etc. are found buried under the earth or are contained in seabed pockets, and are repelled to the surface by the pressure gradient. A mining technique to recover these treasures would take engineering years and involve drilling into solid rock and thus possible emission of radioactive dust. Mining by gunshot is better for these products because it threatens only the surface layers, where the pressure gradient can be exerted. Almost all such products, having great commercial value also, are found in vaults on the surface of planets, mostly under the Equator. This material is confusedly called asteroids, due to the etymology of asteroid, an asteroid being a small body gravitationally trapped between the Sun and Earth. Sometimes on the way between their destinations, especially the belt between Jupiter and Saturn, these bodies were caught by Earth's gravitational force and became meteors. Some of these objects are too small to be just a single asteroid, too small and dark to be called comets, and too large to be called planetoids. Asteroids lacking perihelion or aphelion, and atmospheres, are called trans-Neptunian objects; they are smaller and more numerous than Jupiter's Trojans. A galsa or galassa is a large spaceship from mysterious locations inhabiting the sky to bring stuff from asteroids and comets to the surface of the Earth. Five in 1937, and still unknown. Catastrophic end of the Ice Age. According to mythology, Galsad is responsible for the end of the Ice Age. The famous Bronze Age in Bronze Age times, from the 9th millennium BC to the 2nd millennium BC, refers to the achievement of great technological achievements by Bronze age civilisations, leaving no trace of it in historical writing. The helmsman of Galsad is shown as a Welsh dwarf prowling the waters of Western Europe. It was mentioned by Bede in his book Historia Ecclesiastica, 840 AD and in the writings of William of Malmesbury. The Cathedral of S
